

Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum Trip
Thursday, December 15th, 2016

EVENT: Boston is a city filled with history and culture. Whether you prefer history museums or art museums, look no further. The Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum is both. This museum can be seen as a “hidden gem,” often overshadowed by the larger more prominent museums of Boston. This museum, located in the Fenway-Kenmore neighborhood of Boston showcases European, Asian, and American artwork, and is the only private collection of artwork in which the building, collection, and installations are all the creation of one individual. This museum is notoriously known for the robbery that took place here in 1990, where thieves made off with over $500 million in artwork, making it the largest private property theft ever. Join us for a day of fun at the Gardner Museum.

Lunch is on your own at Red’s Kitchen and Tavern in Peabody, MA. If you are familiar with Red’s Sandwich Shop in Salem, MA, then you’ll love it at Red’s Kitchen and Tavern. Red’s features modern versions of American comfort food and offers something for everyone.
