

CLAY POLYMER JEWELRY MAKING

with Sandra

PROGRAM: This workshop will explore the wonderful world of polymer clay. You'll learn techniques such as marbling, stacking, and building canes to build beautiful beads. These will be enough for a necklace or bracelet or two as well as several earrings and pendants. This is a medium you will be able to pursue at home with your family with a minimum of tools. All creations are yours to keep!

INSTRUCTOR: Sandra Golbert - "The process of making art comes easily to me. I don't suffer as other artists are known to do; I enjoy every second of creating my work. If I live to be 1000, most of my ideas will still not have been realized. However, explaining myself 'as an artist'...this is not easy. Words like 'motivation' and 'inspiration' and mostly make me laugh.... they're just not me. I simply love to make art."

SUPPLIES NEEDED: All supplies provided by instructor.
